MASS INTENTIONS & READINGS

Jesus summoned the Twelve and began to send them out two by two and gave them authority over unclean spirits. He said to them, "Wherever you enter a house, stay there until you leave. Whatever place does not welcome you or listen to you, leave there and shake the dust off your feet in testimony against them." - Mk 6:7, 10-11

From the Desk of Msgr. John

I will be out of town this weekend hosting my family reunion at the farm in Weimar. At this time in our society, we need to focus on family and keep families in tact as much as possible. It is good for older family members to keep in touch and share memories with each other and with the younger generations. It is good for the younger ones to know their history and also to know their relatives, especially those far away. It is good for the young and the old to get together as family. If at all possible, try to attend your family reunions or if you don't have one, start one.

Please mark your calendar for the reception for our new Bishop this Wednesday, July 15th at the KC Hall at 7:00 p.m. Come and greet him and get to know him.

15th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"He instructed them to take nothing for the journey but a walking stick—no food, no sack, no money in their belts." Jesus gave the Twelve Apostles a remarkable mission. He sent them out two by two to preach repentance, to cast out evil spirits, and to heal the sick. And he made them do it in a spirit of complete dependence upon God. They were not allowed to take anything along that would have given them material comfort or security. These men—who did not even have the witness of other apostles or saints to inspire or give them courage, and who had not yet beheld the Resurrection of the Lord—stepped out into the world with literally nothing but their faith in this man named Jesus. And look what happened! "The Twelve drove out many demons, and they anointed with oil many who were sick and cured them."

The apostles' trust in God's power to work these miracles through their hands began with trust in God's power to provide for their own needs. Because they didn't have food, shelter, or money, every time they received food or shelter or had their needs met, the apostles were able to see that God was at work in their midst. This experience bolstered their faith and encouraged them in their mission.

When we find ourselves questioning whether we really have the "power" to do what God wants us to do, then we ought to step back and try to depend a little more directly upon God's providence. Tithing is one way to accomplish this. When we set aside a portion of our income for the sake of others, we make an act of trust in God's power to provide for us.

Surrendering this element of care for ourselves allows God to meet our needs himself. And when he does, our faith will flourish too.
